THE UNITED STATES COURT. The First Verdict Rendered—The Defendants Sentenced-Very Little Transacted Ow-ing to Absence of Witnesses.

The court was opened as usual yesterday morning. The jury in the case of the United States vs. Huff et al who had been out all night, had agreed upon their verdict by 10 o'clock and were brought into court. The foreman handed the verdict to the clerk of the court. The jury found he defendants guilty as charged in the indictment. In the afternoon the defend-ants, Huff, Hostetter and Jones were arraigned at the bar. Judge Riner asked each if they had anything to say why the sentence should not be passed upon on the ground that they were men of famtime. defendant testified falsely in support of your own conveyances, the right of the contestant Hostetter to contest the entry of Cohee. The point raised by the demurrer was that it was immaterial so far as appeared in the indictment whether the contestant was a qualified homesteader or not. Under the law he had a right to contest said entry without regard to his (the contestant's) qualifications to enter the homestead. The charge of false swearing related, therefore, to a matter immaterial as appears on the face of the indictment. The demurrer was ustained by the court.

Deputy United States Marshal Leon De Bost, who is United States Marshal Walker's chief deputy, has been putting the whole machinery of the marshal's office in operation to secure the attendance of witsses from Oklahoma. At least a dozer deputies have been sent out around with subpoenas and attachments, and are now scouring the country in every direction to find and bring to court the much wanted witnesses. Quite a number of witnesse arrived during the day and more expected on later trains.

Attorneys having matters on the civil docket are advised to be present at court today as it is quite probable that Judge Riner can take up their cases, as it is likely that all the witnesses required will not reach court be fore Saturday.

The Wichita Children's home is a charitable institution established for the purpose of providing food, shelter, and when ssible, permanent homes for destitute and homeless little ones. It is principally supported by the generosity of the public, and just now we are forced to make an especial appeal to our friends. The house now occupied has been for some time too small and inconvenient to accommodate the numbers of waifs who are constantly brought to us for shelter, and we have worked very hard to secure larger and better quarters Through the very generus responses to our appeals we have been able to buy some fine large lots on College Hill, and also a large frame bouse which has been moved onto the grounds. But this has exhausted our funds, while the basement is still to be built and many repairs and alterations made pairs and alterations made before the louse is habitable; and we are hoping that the hearts of some who have never yet known the joy of helping to care for these little ones may be opened to aid us now, so that the children may be snugly settled in the new home before cold weather. As this institution is for the benefit of the children, not only of Wich-ita, but of the entire county, we thought series of special drives can be looked for.

AMMONIA IN BAKING POWDER, Discussion Before the American Chemical Society.

From the Chicago Tribune, Sept. 19, 1801, To the Editor of the Tribune-Sir: I

To the Editor of the Tribune—Sir: I have just seen the report in your issue of Sept. 3 of the discussion of the Washington meeting of the American Chemical society, Ang. 18, relative to the use of carbonate of aumonia in baking powders.

This report is incomplete and incorrect in many particulars, and as the paper which precipitated the discussion was read by me and was based upon my own experiments. I desire to make certain corrections. experiments, I desire to make certain cor-rections in the interest of the truth and for the benefit of the large number of your readers to whom the question is one of great moment.

The paper as read before the society related that ammonia in baking powder is retained in the bread by reason of its affinity to the gluten. The concessus of opinion as expressed during the d s u si u opinion as expressed during ine a was a sim-monia in baking powder with the only ex-ception of Dr. McMurtrie, who is now an employe of a baking powder campany which uses carbonate of ammonia in its

Of the other parties mentioned as having taken part in the discussion were Professor Dr. Baker of the University of the University of the University of the University of the Drawident of the Professor Dr. Baker of the University of Pennsylvania, who is the president of the society and one of the highest authorities. In answer to a pleading by Professor Mc. Murtrie that only small quantities of am-monia were used in baking powders, he stated: "No matter how small the quan-tity, I must decline to be dosed medically without my consent when taking my meals."

Dr. Richardson volunteered only the question whether the flour used in the experiments was of good quality, of which I assured him by stating that it was the best and the flour used in my family.

Professor Mallet was not present.

Your article is misleading in so far as it gives the impression that ammonia disappears on baking. My actual tests agree with those made by others, showing that ammonia remains in the bread. My investigations simply assign a new cause for its retention.
